TO STATE CASE AT GRAIN INQUIRY

G. G. McGeer, K. C., to Appear for Vancouver; Government Assists

Vancouver, July 12.—Premier Oliver informed the Vancouver Board of Trade and Merchants' Exchange last night that he regarded the presentation of Vancouver's case to the Grain Trade Commission as a business man's problem.

He stated the Government was willing to bear half the cost of preparing and presenting evidence to the Commission on its visit to Vancouver in September, but declined to assume responsibility for preparing the case or to send counsel to sit with the Commission on the prairies to counteract arguments against the Western route by cross-examination as suggested by J. H. Hamilton and others of the commission.

When the committee proposed a vote of thanks he said: "This is my job, and I like it. I want to stay with it as long as I can."

The committee intimated that G. G. McGeer, K. C., was the man it wished to prepare and present the case for Vancouver in regard to the westward movement of grain, and Mr. Oliver agreed that on the fifty-fifty terms proposed Mr. McGeer's services should be available.

He stated, however, that he was opposed to Mr. McGeer appearing before the commission until after the August 9 was out of the way.

505 RUSSIANS ADMITTED TO U. S.

Only Twenty-One of Refugees From Vladivostok Turned Back

San Francisco, July 12.—Only twenty-one of the 524 Russian refugees who arrived at the Angel Island immigration station here recently from Manila have been denied admission to the United States. The official reason assigned for still detaining them is that "they do not measure up to immigration standards," but it was learned from an authoritative source that one of those denied admission was mentally incompetent, while it was feared the remainder would become public charges. They have appealed their cases to Secretary of Labor Davis.

Most of those who were admitted already have obtained positions. The remainder have taken up their abode with relatives.

CONFIRM REPORTS OF GRAIN CROP

C. P. R. and C. N. R. Officials Observed Conditions During Prairie Tours

Moose Jaw, July 12.—Crop conditions are more uniformly good than ever before in the experience of Grant Hall, vice-president, in charge of the Western lines, who passed through here yesterday with a party of railway officials and business men after having made a tour of the southern portion of Saskatchewan and through Alberta.

"Beyond local damage by hail, we saw no evidence of any condition which would interfere with a wonderful harvest," Mr. Hall said.

W. A. Black, managing director of the Ogilvie Flour Mills, of Montreal, who is a member of the party, stated he had never seen conditions better at this time of the year.

ATTEMPT TO SCALE MOUNT GEIKIE

F. Krahnstoeber and Companions to Make Effort in Jasper Park

Jasper, Alta., July 12.—Felix Krahnstoeber, the famous Alpine climber, will arrive in Jasper National Park on Monday next to attempt to scale Mount Geikie, an unconquered peak of the Canadian Rockies. Krahnstoeber, who landed at New York this week on his first visit to North America, sent word to Jasper Park Lodge to prepare an expedition to take him into the Tonquin Valley, at the foot of Mount Geikie.

A civil engineer, Krahnstoeber has won the highest laurels among European climbers and has made this special trip to Canada to challenge the hitherto-impenetrable heights of the peak. He received information by cable that his companions, comprising the Bergues-Landry expedition into the Tonquin Valley, had been unsuccessful in their attempt made during the month of June to scale Mount Geikie and he at once determined to join them. The Bergues-Landry party in January was the first to reach in midwinter the top of Mount Rainer, the highest snow peak in the United States, but the climbers declare they have found Mount Geikie to be one of the most baffling of the world's high mountains.

Situated in the Ramparts Range, twenty miles from Jasper Park headquarters Mount Geikie presents to the climber after he has reached its ice fields a 5,000-foot wall of rock that is nearly perpendicular. Bergues stated here that in his opinion there was nothing in the Swiss Alps to surpass in beauty of scenery or climbing difficulty the Ramparts Range, in which there are fifty peaks that have not been scaled.

When joined by Krahnstoeber the expedition will again tackle Mount Geikie and spend all Summer trying to master its problems and gathering to their credit other peaks in the range.

PRIEST ON HUNTING TRIP LOST HIS LIFE

Rev. A. Duchesne Killed in Saskatchewan When Rifle Discharged

Shaunavon, Sask., July 12.—Rev. Father A. Duchesne, parish priest of Frenchville, was accidentally shot yesterday afternoon and died instantly at a camp near Lone Tree lake, southwest of here. Father Duchesne was in the act of removing a bolt from his gun when it discharged, the shot passing through his left hand and tearing a large hole in his left breast.

The body was examined by Coroner Leitch and by the local police. An inquest was not considered necessary.

The priest, in company with his brother, Raymond Duchesne, of Three Rivers, Que., left Wednesday night on a shooting trip at Lone Tree Lake.

SAYS SETTLERS ARE DISAPPOINTED

Hon. W. R. Motherwell Condemns Senate's Delaying of C. N. R. Work

Winnipeg, July 12.—The action of the Senate in giving the bill for construction of branch lines of the Canadian National Railways a six-months' delay was described as "monstrous" by Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, here yesterday.

"It would be a great disappointment to many settlers throughout the West where the lines were urgently required," he said.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

We do not advocate keeping Pacific Milk open for any length of time, but pass this point along.

THE LATE A. B. FRASER.

Widespread regret will be occasioned by the death of Mr. A. B. Fraser, which took place this morning after an illness extending over a considerable period, but which developed into an acute form only ten days ago. For more than thirty years Mr. Fraser was prominently identified with the business life of the city, having been one of the founders of the well-known firm with which his name is still associated. During that period he was one of the stalwarts of the Liberal Party in this city, holding at various times the chief offices of the party association and contributing to the Liberal cause the quick intelligence and tireless energy which marked all of his activities. His was the political partisanship, however, which aroused no personal animosities and he was esteemed and respected as highly in the camp of his political opponents as in his own. He was an intimate friend of the late Hon. William Templeman, for whose estate he acted as executor in co-operation with the late R. L. Drury and Joshua Kingham. In all of his relations, public and private, he was noted for his intense conscientiousness and integrity and his inflexible devotion to his sense of duty. With these high qualities he combined a kindly, tolerant and considerate disposition and a genial manner which made him a popular figure in every circle in which he moved. In his death Victoria has lost an admirable citizen and The Times, which long enjoyed intimate and pleasurable association with him, adds its condolences to the numerous expressions of regret which will go to his sorrowing relatives in their bereavement.

THE LATE D. R. KER.

Victoria's fast dwindling band of pioneers who laid the foundations of this community's commercial life has sustained another notable loss by the death of Mr. D. R. Ker. For although the long and trying illness which has claimed its victim removed him from an active part in the administration of a business to which he had devoted the greater part of his life, tangible evidences of his earlier career still testify to a wealth of energy and ability that has meant much to this district.

It is only possible for those who will feel his passing the more poignantly to realize the great fortitude with which the late Mr. Ker endured the progress of the ailment which determined his end. In this resolution and capitulation to the unalterable decree of Providence the people of this community will recognize the same mental capacity which supplied the fuel for that dynamic force which he employed in all his important undertakings.

The late Mr. Ker was for years—right up till the time that illness forced his retirement—prominently associated with the firm of Brackman & Ker. At the same time, and although it was his premier interest on Vancouver Island, he was a man of many parts. Movements which concerned the general progress of this part of the country found in the late Mr. Ker a warm supporter. His was the finest type of citizenship in every sense of the term and it may be rightly said of him that his interpretation and discharge of public responsibility merit a form of recognition that poverty of language renders difficult to record.

Much could be said of the late Mr. Ker's service to the community if space would permit. For his less public contributions to the welfare of the neighborhood in which he spent the whole of his days were many and varied. Because of these, and by virtue of a life well lived, widespread sympathy will be expressed with those who are left to mourn his loss. In such genuine feelings The Times sincerely joins.

WELL RECEIVED.

Premier Baldwin's statement in the British House of Commons yesterday afternoon has been well received because he based his remarks upon the needs of the times and a studied regard for Britain's relationship with France. Everybody knows that as long as French troops are pointing bayonets at German throats—for that is what it amounts to—it is impossible for the debtor nation to get down to business and play her part in the commerce of the world. Admittedly she should not be allowed to escape any part of an obligation that expert investigation shall show that she can discharge without impairing her own economic structure to a point that would act still more adversely upon the business of her creditors. But the fact remains, and the Prime Minister made his point clear, that some effort will have to be made to save Germany from total collapse. If useful ends shall be served by Great Britain taking the initiative, in any form, the time has arrived for such a move. Even the French people and Government must admit that in spite of the justice of a procedure, which is after all authorized by the Treaty of Versailles, results from the occupational programme have been thoroughly unsatisfactory from more than one standpoint.

It is not to say that the course which France has adopted has not convinced Germany that her escape from just retribution is impossible; for it will have to be admitted that if France had not gone into the Ruhr Germany might have been successful in the policy of evasion, that she has followed for the last two years. None the less an adjustment is now overdue and it may be that the British plan will offer a solution for the dilemma in which France obviously finds herself at the present time.

HELP THE T. B. TO-MORROW.

In the early part of the year 1918 a number of former members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force who were trying to get rid of tuberculosis at Tranquille formed themselves into a body which they named The Invalided Tuberculous Soldiers' Welfare League. They had in mind the necessity of educating ex-service men who had contracted the disease during the Great War in the important principles that those afflicted should observe in their own interests and in the interests of the state. As the number of tuberculous veterans grew it soon became obvious to the comparatively small band, whose enterprise had been responsible for the creation of the first organization of this kind in Canada, that a wider sphere of usefulness was to be served. Here is the origin of the Tuberculous Veterans' Association of Canada—a body of the war's victims which is laboring ceaselessly to assist the unfortunate T. B. by education and example, to lessen the prevalence of tuberculosis and at the same time correct the numerous false impressions that exist among the general public. By the preaching of sane principles the Association hopes to obtain the whole-hearted co-operation of the people generally. But its programme, like all good works, cannot be prosecuted successfully without funds. For that reason the Florence Nightingale Chapter of the I. O. D. E. will conduct a tag day in its behalf to-morrow. The Times expresses the hope that there will be a very generous response to such a worthy appeal.

A GOOD CREED.

It was not to be expected that any influence could be brought to bear upon the assembled delegates to the annual convention of the Great War Veterans' Association that would disturb a fundamental objection to political affiliation or action. The views of the newly-elected President on the contrary emphatically label the organization as one primary for service to its members and to the nation at large. At the conclusion of the gathering in Vancouver on Saturday he gave voice to the following:

As overseas men we performed the first part of our duty in France and now, as returned men, we owe a second duty to Canada. While we feel we have certain rights coming to us as veterans, we have not lost sight of the fact that as citizens we have also a service to perform for our respective communities and for the nation as a whole. As G. W. V. A. men our first duty, of course, is to the widow, the orphan, the wounded and all war afflicted.

No finer conception of citizenship could be desired than that reflected in the foregoing. It is a declaration of policy that will win respect from people of every shade of thought, since it represents one hundred per cent. Canadianism. As long as ideals of this kind are practised and respected the soil of this Dominion will offer little subsistence either to the active or to the parlor Bolshevik. The G. W. V. A. is to be congratulated upon the manner in which it conducted its convention and the extreme moderation with which all speeches were tempered under the smart of the Senate's action towards pensions matters.

NOTE AND COMMENT

More Mennonites are coming to Canada. It is to be hoped that they will be told at the point of entry that it will be their duty to obey the laws of the country and not defy them.

Manitoba's majority against the open sale of beer and light wines bids fair to be as great as that in favor of the Liquor Control plan. Will B. C. sponsors of the semi-bar not take a lesson from the verdict of the Prairie Province?

After all an impartial tribunal is not likely to give Germany the best of a reparations deal. Surely it is not impossible to discover what she can pay. And if France finds herself able to collect in kind she will be well advised to withdraw troops and get into a profitable trading business with her ancient foe.

During the seven-day period from July 1 to July 8, 17,270 automobiles crossed the international boundary line on their way to Vancouver and other parts of British Columbia. Will anybody say that this week's business is not an argument in favor of the early completion of the trans-provincial highway? Surely action will be taken at the next session of the Legislature that will end the coast's highway isolation from the interior.

OUR CONTEMPORARIES

TOO MUCH THUMB.
Toronto Mail and Empire:—We ought, in our own interest, to be getting ready with social equipment to organize transport of Alberta coal to Ontario. It can be done, at a fair price, if the railway men will grapple with the subject in a big way, and not by rule of thumb methods.

"P. R." DISAPPOINTING.
Brandon Daily Sun:—Proportional representation killed public interest in elections because only the super-intelligent—which is not a large number in any general electorate—could follow the masses of accountancy followed by the faddist system. Vancouver will go forward to simplicity and majority rule. There is no doubt that the citizens of Winnipeg are just as dissatisfied with proportional representation as is Vancouver. If a vote were taken under anything like fair conditions, the citizens of Winnipeg would be found as decisively opposed to the perambulating vote-counting system as Vancouver electors.

Other People's Views

Letters addressed to the Editor and intended for publication must be short and legibly written. The longer an article the shorter the chance of insertion. ## AMERICAN CONTROL OF OUR INDUSTRIES

To the Editor:—In last night's "Times" you published the interesting information that the United States controls nearly 50 per cent. of the industries of Canada, and that there are 700 American branch factories in the Dominion. Figures to similar effect are given rather frequently, and it appears to be commonly assumed that this American control of Canadian industries is a splendid thing for the Dominion. As I would be little sceptical on this point, I would suggest to your readers that they should face squarely the question: Are these 700 American branch factories helping to build up the prosperity of Canada? For my part, I very much doubt it.

It seems to me that, whenever an American capitalist comes to Canada and seeks the opportunity, under our tariff, of marketing his goods throughout the Dominion in higher prices for goods which they have to buy, there are a number of questions which we might fairly ask him to answer. Is he going to establish for us a real 100 per cent. Canadian industry in return for the privileges he is receiving? Will the industry use Canadian raw materials? Will its machinery be made in Canada? Will it employ Canadian labor? To what extent will it employ Canadian labor? Will the wages paid remain in circulation in Canada, or be taken across to the United States—to be spent? And will the profits from the industry go to the Canadian investor?

If there is any Protectionist among your readers who thinks that any one of these questions is irrelevant, I would like him to tell us why. On the other hand, I would like him to tell us if he has ever heard of a single one of these questions being asked of an American capitalist seeking tariff privileges in Canada. I venture to assert that, if these questions were asked of the proprietors of the 700 American "branch factories" in Eastern Canada, invariably either all or the majority of them would have to be answered unfavorably from a Canadian point of view.

Our tariff system is fast becoming a mere instrument for the scientific extraction of Canada's wealth for the benefit of the American capitalist.

FRER TRADER.

Victoria, July 12, 1923.

THANKS FOR SUPPORT

To the Editor:—I wish on behalf of the committee of the Sailors' Club, Esquimalt, to thank the parties who so generously assisted in making the boxing tournament of last evening the success it proved to be.

The prizes were generously donated by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Frank Bernard, Jack Rutherford, A. C. Burdick, Mr. Redpath (who, by the way, gave two prizes), Arthur Coles, Jerry Bolton, Harry Maynard and H. E. Newton.

I wish also to especially thank The Times and The Colonist newspapers for the very generous space given us, and The Colonist for the necessary printing at cost price; also the B. C. Electric Railway Company, who permitted us to place our advertisement on the street cars without cost, with the result that the Sailors' Club has very materially benefited from the entertainment.

I think we all appreciate that the entertainment was the best of its kind given in Victoria for a long time, and as an exhibition of good, clean sport it could not be surpassed.

The success was entirely due to the untiring efforts of Leont Watson, of the Royal Canadian Navy, ably assisted by Chief Petty Officer Kinch, and by Mr. Davies, who had the entire management of the ring, and it was indeed a pleasure to attend to see the way in which these three gentlemen conducted the affair.

Last, but not least, one must not forget the contestants themselves, who without doubt put up one of the most sporting exhibitions of boxing which it has ever been our pleasure to see in Victoria, and which demonstrates the fact that the good old British sport is still as much alive as ever.

It is the intention of the committee of the Sailors' Club to make these boxing tournaments a semi-annual event. We think the public will appreciate our efforts to keep the good, clean sport to the fore in Victoria, and it will be our main object to keep the standard as high as that established last evening.

R. H. POOLEY,
Chairman Sailors' Club.

TO GIVE RULING ON LIQUOR DUTY

London, July 12.—Judgment was reserved by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council yesterday on the appeal of the Attorney-General of British Columbia versus the Attorney-General of the Dominion of Canada over the question whether liquor imported into British Columbia by the Provincial Government is liable to Dominion customs duty.

The Dominion was not called upon to reply to British Columbia's appeal, so it may be assumed the judgment will go against the Province.

The petition stated this was a test action to determine whether the Parliament of Canada had power to impose customs duties or excise or sales taxes on goods imported by the Province from outside Canada. That depended primarily on certain sections of the British North America Act, 1867.

The action was tried by Mr. Justice Cassels on pleading and a written admission and no other evidence was put in.

On July 23, 1921, the British Columbia Government, through a purchasing agent, bought in Great Britain a case of "Johnny Walker Black Label Whisky." It was shipped at Glasgow and was consigned to Victoria, B. C. On its arrival it was taken possession of by the Dominion collector of customs there, who demanded payment of customs duty or excise sales tax.

The British Columbia Government claimed on declaration that the province was entitled to delivery of the whisky without payment of duties or taxes. The Dominion Government resisted the claim on the ground that all wines and spirits imported into Canada were liable to duty and tax under the Customs Act and the special war revenue statutes. British Columbia contended that so far as the legislation, purporting to impose customs duties on the Provincial Government, it was ultra vires of the Dominion Parliament.

Action Dismissed.
Mr. Justice Cassels dismissed the action, holding that if British Columbia imported goods to carry on a business or trade it must pay the customs duties charged by the Dominion.

The decision was affirmed on an appeal being taken to the Supreme Court of Canada, by a majority of five judges to one.

The British Columbia government.

In its appeal to the Privy Council, submitted that the whisky in question was property belonging to the province, and therefore was exempt under the British North America Act from customs duties or from excise or sales tax.

IN WOMAN'S DOMAIN

GREET AUTHOR OF "A PERFECT DAY"

Business Women's Convention Hears Remarkable Woman

From Times Staff Correspondent.

Portland, Ore., July 12.—Carrie Jacobs Bond, the woman who gave to the world those beautiful, tender little songs, "A Perfect Day" and "Just A-Wearyin' for You" is among the world-renowned figures attending the fifth annual convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. And, contrary to supposition, there is no incongruity in her presence here, for she is the head of the flourishing music publishing concern in Hollywood, California, which bears her name.

"A Perfect Day" If one could visualize the sweetness and fragrant charm underlying "A Perfect Day" and "Just A-Wearyin' for You," if one had the gift to materialize its tenderness and understanding and love of home and the home folk, then one would have a perfect picture of Carrie Jacobs Bond. Her personality is arresting, not because it conveys the sense of a successful career attained, but because it radiates motherliness and all the lovable characteristics that real motherliness implies in its highest sense.

Carrie Jacobs Bond is, as far as one may judge, about sixty-five years of age. Her hair is of the purest silver, her eyes of a "pearl-washed" blue, while her voice is indescribably beautiful and soothing in its soft rather drawing inflections. But most irresistible is her little chuckle, which slips out at unexpected moments, revealing the possession of that rare and priceless gift—a sense of humor.

Given to dressing in palest shades of grey, there is a "je ne sais quoi" about Mrs. Bond which brings the suggestion that she has just stepped out of a lavender-scented receptacle.

Defends Hollywood. And Hollywood is her home and woe betide the unlucky wight who dares to hint that Hollywood suffers (Concluded on page 7.)

GARDEN FETE AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE

Will Be Held To-morrow in Aid of Funds of Navy
League

The presence at this port of H. M. S. Curlew lends additional point to the garden fete in aid of the funds of the Navy League of Canada, Victoria Branch, which, postponed from last week on account of the inclement weather, will take place on Saturday, July 14, in the grounds of Government House.

The Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E., under whose auspices the event will be given, has spared no pains to ensure a pleasurable afternoon to those attending the fete. A fine musical programme has been arranged by Lieut. Paymaster Cossette, to which vocal contributions will be given by Mrs. W. P. McDonald, Miss Jones, gold medalist, and Master Arthur White, the juvenile comedian. Hebrew recitations will be given by Paymaster Cossette, and dancing by Seaman Boy Dick. A maypole dance will prove a charming novelty. Selections will be rendered by the Boys' Naval Brigade Band throughout the afternoon. Those energetically inclined may take part in a clock golf competition, with special prizes presented by Major S. Rowlinson.

Ice cream and afternoon tea will be served. The lovely grounds of Government House are now at their loveliest, and it is hoped that a large attendance will crown the undertaking with success.

TAG DAY TO-MORROW.
The Tuberculous Veterans' Association which deserves the most generous support of all members of the community, will hold a tag day on Saturday, and will be glad to have the names of anyone willing to assist them in tagging. YOUR HOME AND YOU
By HELEN KENDALL
At Home in the Park

Walking through one of our local parks the other day, I was interested to watch a young mother who had evidently decided to set up her summer home there. I knew she must live in the city, for the tenement buildings a few blocks away, with hot-baked ground in place of green lawns, and the scorching pavements for little feet to step on.

She sat quietly sewing on a shady bench, a straw cushion under her and a double cushion thrown over the back of the seat, to lean her back on. A toddler crept around on the thick turf near by, and in his go-cart the baby waved a balloon and watched a puppy gambolling on the other side of the path. I sat down beside the placid little mother and talked with her a little.

"Why the awns, the awns," she said, "stuffy nowadays," she confided to me, a little shyly, a touch of foreign accent in her voice. "So after my morning work is finished, I bring my babies and my lunch, and here I live all day. I keep a bottle of milk for the baby—it is in the cool water of the lagoon here, in the shade—and there are graham crackers and a little cup of spinach for my little girl, and some sandwiches for me. I have a book and a magazine, as well as my sewing, and when I tire of sitting in one place, we take a little walk and find another place farther on."

"Both the children take their naps out here—the baby in his go-cart, for you see the lower part turns up and it forms a little bed for him—and my little girl sleeps on a bench on the cushions which I have brought. While they sleep I sit on my cushion under the awns and read a free paper."

"You see it is just as if this were my own great estate, with the little lake, the flowers and the great trees. City people need not feel shut in so long as there are beautiful parks everywhere for us to live in. After our supper, my husband and I often come out and spend the evening here, letting the baby sleep in his cart and our little girl on a rug on the grass. No rich man could have more beautiful or comfortable grounds about his home. We are most grateful for all this."

DOUKHOBORS ANTITHESIS OF HIS NEIGHBORS

Miss Matz, Now Student-Teacher Here, Tells Interesting Story

Has Been Closely Identified
With Teaching of Their Children

Life in a Doukhobor community seems at first sight to be mainly a series of negations. There are no cats, no dogs, no chickens, no pigs—because it is against Doukhobor principles to destroy life; therefore they will not foster it in its lower forms unnecessarily. Though they are all trained singers they have no musical instruments, because these might lead to unbecomingly revivified and corrupt the morals of youth; no priests, because they believe in the divinity and dignity of all mankind and a universal priesthood, and because their religion is founded on the use, and not a thing of ceremonial and temples. So strictly, indeed, do this strange sect observe the letter of the law as well as its spirit, that no Doukhobor ever claps his hands in joy or applause, because the Jews clapped their hands when Christ was crucified.

Kindness, contentment, industry and an exquisite cleanliness, these are the chief characteristics of life in a Doukhobor settlement, and glowing accounts of their skill in agriculture and housework are told by Miss Maggie Matz, who for six years has lived among them as teacher and supervisor of schools, and is now taking a course at the Victoria Summer School.

Close Personal Contact.

Going straight from Normal School at her home town of Revelstoke, to a separate Doukhobor community at Crescent Valley, and from there in 1919 to Brilliant, Miss Matz has in consequence a knowledge of their lives and customs impossible to acquire in any other way, for writers seeking "copy" among them meet with little encouragement and are likely to pick up only sparse information, and the only authentic literature in existence is a report prepared for the Government on Doukhobor habits and customs, by the late William Blakemore. For three and a half years Miss Matz lived in a Doukhobor household and is enthusiastic over the motherly kindness she met with. There were only five Canadian girls in the community—those like herself, who were each housed separately with some family. Owing to the rigid vegetarianism of the Doukhobors, the girls "batched," buying in their stores from Castlegar, a settlement two miles away. Contributions of vegetables and fruit from the Doukhobors were frequent gifts. However, in a Doukhobor household how to make many Russian dishes. Miss Matz also learnt to speak Russian while she was with them.

A lack of outside interests was, she states, the chief drawback. She speaks gratefully of the Women's Institute and library at Castlegar which provided her and other teachers with their much-needed relaxation.

Method of Family Life.
Doukhobor community life is arranged on the following plan: There are only two houses to a village, but these houses accommodate between seventy and eighty people, as a general rule these being composed of a number of families who have intermarried. There is a large common kitchen and dining room, two women of the household being detailed each week to cook and serve the meals. In one house live the old people and the little children of the group, and in the other the active workers, the married couples, the young men and maidens. Each house has a milch cow for its own use, and home-grown fruit and vegetables, with cheese and eggs bought in Castlegar, form the staple diet. Of these community meals Miss Matz relates amusingly that they are usually ushered in with the singing of two or three sacred songs, punctuated between the (Concluded on page 7.)

COLFAX REBEKAH LODGE INSTALLS ITS OFFICERS
There was a large attendance of members and visitors at Colfax Rebekah Lodge No. 1, on Tuesday evening, when the District Deputy President Jennie Pollard, assisted by the Deputy Grand Marshal Alice Gonnason and efficient staff of past noble grandes, installed in a very capable manner, the officers of that lodge for the ensuing term.

The officers installed were as follows: Junior—Past—Noble—Grand, Kate Hopkins; Noble Grand, Laura Walker; Vice-Grand, Janet Murkar; Recording Secretary, Francis A. Walker; Financial Secretary, Rachel Hay; Treasurer, Ada L. Kirk; Wardens—Marie Weiss; Conductor, Dorothy Todd; Chaplain, Jean McDonald; R. S. N. G., Elizabeth Reston; L. E. N. G., Alice Gonnason; R. S. V. G., Florence Scandling; I. S. V. G., E. Cooper; Inside Guardian, Sara Cummins; Outside Guardian, Helen McNeill; Pianist, Edith Todd; Degree Staff Captain, W. D. Todd.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the D.D.E. Jennie Pollard, with a few well chosen words, presented the retiring Noble Grand, Kate Hopkins, with her last noble grand's jewel. The Deputy Grand Secretary, Jeannine Pilgrim, also presented Edith R. Todd, P.N.G., with a "certificate of proficiency," from the Rebekah Assembly of British Columbia.

The Noble Grand Elect, Laura Walker, and retiring Noble Grand, Kate Hopkins, were each presented with lovely bouquets, while Edith Todd, P.N.G., was the recipient of a beautiful basket of "sweet peas from the good cheer club."

Among the visitors present were Mrs. Bell, of Honolulu; Miss Main, of Leithbridge, and Mr. and Mrs. F. Davids, of Colton, Cal.

HAPPY PICNIC

Three large tallyhoes with a happy load of sixty-three children and eighty parents and friends left early yesterday morning for the Esquimalt Child-Hygiene picnic, which took place at Cordova Bay. Throughout the sunny hours the young people built their sand castles, sunbathed and paddled to their hearts' content, a substantial picnic lunch being enjoyed at mid-day. A big photographic group, taken during the proceedings, remains to remind the Child-Hygiene Council of a thoroughly successful day.

FIRE DESTROYED METCHOSIN HOUSE

Mr. and Mrs. T. Barclay Lost
Their Home

Special to The Times
Metchosin.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Barclay, Crossroads, Metchosin, was destroyed by fire at 1.30 Thursday morning. Mrs. Barclay was awakened by a smell of burning, and having called to her husband, they proceeded to investigate and found the fire had already got a firm hold. Hastily putting on some attire and gathering up valuable papers and some cash that was in the house, they, with their little son Alan, succeeded in getting away without personal harm.

Neighbors who were summoned went to assist Mr. Barclay in protecting the chicken houses and brooders and the barn. Mr. Barclay remained on watch the night through.

Mr. Barclay has some hundreds of heads of poultry and is known throughout the district as "the Chicken Wizard."

Mrs. Barclay spent the remainder of the night with her little son at St. Mary's Vicarage. The two eldest boys were in town for the sports, and were later advised by telephone of the loss of their home.

Big lasting suds—one secret of Rinso's amazing power to dissolve dirt. If you don't get lasting suds, you have not used enough Rinso.

After soaking, only the most soiled clothes need a light rubbing with dry Rinso.

Your clothes don't need boiling if you use Rinso.
But if you like to boil your white cottons, use enough Rinso solution to get the suds you like.

NOTE: In hard water it takes from 1/4 to 1 package of Rinso to a tub to make good suds. In very hard water you will need from 1/2 to 2 packages to a tub to get the big lasting suds that loosen all the dirt.

by being the centre of filmdom. She warmly champions the movie colony and declares its people to be among the finest she has met in her world-wide travels.

To two thousand business women and an equal number of interested members of the general public Mrs. Bond showed a side which, to those so fortunate as to hear her, will never be forgotten. This charming woman, simply and without any ostentation, with little vocal equipment, yet with the true musician's soul, sang songs after songs and brought tears to the eyes of her enraptured audience.

Boats "Prima Donna"
In her little introductory remarks, Mrs. Bond disclaimed any vocal ability, but as she said, with her fascinating chuckle, she scored over many prima donnas in that her hearers would at least understand what she was singing about! And they did! Seated at the piano, playing her own accompaniments, with consummate artistry, Mrs. Bond sang a number of the songs which she has recently created and has not yet published. "The Legend of the Forget-Me-Not," "Lazy River," "The Hand of You," and "A Lullaby," all gems of lyrical appeal, were sung as only the composer can sing them—with the true tenderness of a mother for her children.

And her singing of them, with the background of a wonderful personality radiating from that silver-haired figure to every corner of that vast auditorium, left an impression which will not easily be effaced.

Mark This Lady Judge

JUDGE FLORENCE E. ALLEN

Portland, Ore., July 13.—War should be made illegal by agreement among civilized nations, and a start in that direction should be made by a treaty between the United States and England, and the United States and South America, providing that henceforth, as between those nations, war is outlawed, said Judge Florence E. Allen, of the Supreme Court of Ohio, in an address Thursday at the annual banquet of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, which is holding its fifth convention here.

"We have certain laws about war, but none against war," she said. "There are laws a state how war should be made, but they do not forbid war. Even as the ancient code declared, 'Thou shalt not kill,' so surely must the modern code declare 'Thou shalt not war.'" courses with others and still other musical selections are sung at the close. A gracious custom and one that might well be emulated, is the personal thanks "Sposil Hospitt," accompanied by a bow with which each one who has eaten, acknowledges the cooks on leaving the dining-room. Each girl in the household has her own separate bedroom, and decks it in bright colors, but all rooms in the house are kalsomined once every month. The women excel in the domestic arts, and make very beautiful rugs and mats, as well as doing exquisitely fine needlework and drawn-thread work.

The women also do most of the field work after the men have done the heavy ploughing in the Spring, all gardens and fields being worked on the community plan.

Exquisite Neatness.
The mothers are not so anxious as the fathers are for their children to be educated. The school age is from 7 years of age to 18, though frequently the children stay two or three years longer. They themselves are anxious to learn, and their work is characterized by an exquisite neatness. It is only during the last two years in the house are kalsomined once every month. The women excel in the domestic arts, and make very beautiful rugs and mats, as well as doing exquisitely fine needlework and drawn-thread work.

a director of the Alberta-Pacific Grain Company, and of the Western Canadian Flour Mills Co., Ltd., as well as President of the Brackman-Ker Company, and was general manager of the last named company up to the time of his illness.

The Brackman-Ker Company is now amalgamated with the Western Canadian Flour Mills Co., Ltd., of Toronto, one of the largest flour milling concerns in Canada, with flour mills at Winnipeg, Brandon, Calgary and Goderich; also oatmeal mills at Calgary, Edmonton and Brandon.

Mr. Ker's initiative is due to the fact that Victoria has a large cereal mill at the Outer Wharf, one of the larger of the numerous enterprises in different cities of the Brackman-Ker interests.

His Public Work.
Mr. Ker for a great many years took an active share in public affairs, and in 1895-97 was President of the British Columbia Board of Trade. He was also for a term President of the Victoria Agricultural Society. He was all his life closely identified with St. John's Anglican Church, where he was christened by the late Rev. P. J. J. and attended Sunday School in his childhood, and throughout the subsequent years of his life he was one of the leading laymen in the diocese. He was one of the moving spirits in the construction of the new church edifice, and for several years acted as churchwarden.

His political opinions were Conservative, and he was a member of Lodge No. 1, A. F. & A. M. of B. C. Golf was his favorite recreation, and he was a member of the Victoria Golf Club, as also of the Union and Pacific Clubs.

Family Associations.
His marriage to Miss Agnes Heisterman took place in 1894, and there were born two sons, Robert Henry Brackman Ker and Bernard Russell Ker, and two daughters, Laura David and Irene Jessie. All the family are resident in Victoria, the younger daughter being now at home on holiday from the Bishop Strachan School, Toronto. The late Mr. Ker had also three brothers, Robert James Ker, who died in 1919, and two who survive him, Walter Henry Ker of Vancouver, and Thomas Arnot Ker, at present in California.

Chinese Who Sought to Evade Immigration Laws Deported on Empress Liner

Assuming the role of returned men, but failing to maintain their imperturbability under rigorous examination, nine Chinese who sought to evade the Canadian immigration laws, were last night deported by the liner Empress of Russia. The nine Chinamen in question landed here on Dominion Day with other Chinese nationals who disembarked from the Empress of Russia on the completion of her inbound voyage. They are now classed as returned men.

They were placed on board the liner Empress of Russia, following her arrival here last night from Vancouver on her outbound voyage to the Orient. They were placed on board the liner Empress of Russia, following her arrival here last night from Vancouver on her outbound voyage to the Orient.

It was announced here to-day that the Federal Telegraph Company has opened a high power marine radio station at Portland, Ore., to be used for communication with ships in the Columbia River, Puget Sound and off the North Pacific Coast. The station will transmit and receive on a wave length of 600 meters and will maintain a continuous 24-hour service. The call letters are KEK.

Passenger Ships Due.

When the Admiral-Oriental liner President Jackson, Capt. John Griffith, gets away from port this evening on her return trip to the Orient, she will have aboard a party of seventeen officials and agents of the British American Tobacco Company among her passengers. They are going to the Orient to assume positions in the interests of the big tobacco organization.

The President Jackson made a smart turn-around this trip. She arrived here on her inward voyage but a week ago, being two days behind schedule. The ship is taking out a full cargo.

The sister liner, President Jefferson, which is due to arrive here on Monday from the Orient, has 165 first class passengers and a good Chinese list. Her cargo includes a large consignment of about 5,000 bags of sugar, and the land and sea cargo passengers and 50 tons of cargo at this port.

The Cunard Company is now in direct steamer communication with the ports of Odessa and Novorossisk in Southern Ukraine. The Cunard Line has established a service of cargo steamers which for the present runs from London, England, to the Mediterranean and Russia. The information is regarded as of particular importance, as indicating the first step in the rehabilitation of commercial relations with Soviet Russia by one of the big Transatlantic Lines. So far as is known, this is the first North Atlantic Steamship Company to establish such a connection, and the significance of the arrangement is awaited with much interest in commercial and political circles.

System Effective.
The men attempting to slip into the country were discovered through the close checking system of the Immigration Department, and an investigation board sat this week at the Immigration Building looking into the case.

On being taken to the immigration building from the boat on arrival last week the Chinese under suspicion had no money on them, claiming to have transferred it to friends on the wharf.

When N. Reid, head of the Immigration Department here, and his officers had completed their investigations the case against the Chinese was complete.

They were ordered deported by the immigration board, and in compliance with these orders, were placed on board the liner Empress of Russia, following her arrival here last night from Vancouver on her outbound voyage to the Orient.

NO DISCOUNTS ON NEW LICENSE FEES

Merchants Must Pay Full Amount of Increases Under New Schedule

Last hope of discounts on new city business license fees has disappeared; it was stated at the City Hall to-day, when city officials prepared to start collection of the new fees July 16.

The new license by-law was passed by the Council finally yesterday afternoon, and this means that the fees provided in it will be enforced as they stand, it was explained. Mayor Reginald Hayward had planned to suggest a blanket reduction on all fees so as to relieve businessmen to some extent from the heavy tax increases, but apparently, he found his plan impracticable. He did not bring it up at the Council yesterday. City officials previously had asserted that the idea was not feasible.

The new licenses will be due July 15, but, owing to the complete revision of the license system brought into effect by the Council, it is expected that there will be some delay in collection. Officials are now busy classifying businesses under the new license schedule. When the new licenses fall due July 15, it becomes the duty of all firms to pay them. Failure to meet these payments is punishable under the new by-law.

COURT OF APPEAL REACHES LAST CASE

Thirty-Five Hearings Listed at This Session

Shifting already two weeks after the long vacation commenced the Court of Appeal entered upon the last hearing on the list to-day. Their Lordships this morning declined to review a matter arising out of the judgment given in the hearing of Johnson versus Maclean recently, and relegated that matter to a judge in Chambers to sit on Tuesday. H. B. Robertson, K.C., on behalf of the litigants, said the order given by the court has occasioned some disagreement on which a ruling was sought. At the close of the hearing of J. B. Green and the Legal Professions Act yesterday the appeal was dismissed on an equal division of the court. Mr. Justice Gailher and Mr. Justice Eberts would have allowed the appeal, one on a matter of costs concerning the action of Newcombe versus Green.

The appeal of the Glenmore Irrigation District from a judgment of Mr. Justice Gregory in favor of the plaintiff respondent, S. T. Elliott, opened with W. C. Robertson, K.C., and R. G. Ritchie for the plaintiff, and Harold B. Robertson, K.C. and T. G. Norris for the appellants. The appeal is one by the newly created Glenmore Irrigation District from an award of $600 in favor of the plaintiff, a rancher at Kelowna, B. C. Mr. Elliott claimed $4,650 damages for damage to his land and fruit trees when water flooded his farm at Glenmore, Yale County. The damage was caused by water from the dikes of the appellants, it was pleaded by the plaintiff. Mr. Justice Gregory found for the plaintiff, but cut the award to $600, being the loss of crops on six acres.

The appellants contend that the damage was in part from seepage from a lake at a higher level, and denied the liability. To the court to-day Mr. Robertson, counsel for the appellants, contended that the damage was not one for the courts in the first instance but for arbitration. The report of the complainant had been tardy, he said, and no proper notice had been given. When the matter was reported the trustees of the Glenmore Irrigation District viewed the ground and shut off the water while repairs were executed. The appeal is of interest affecting the rights of the system of irrigation districts created under the amended sections of the Water Act in 1920. The Glenmore Corporation took control over from the Kelowna Irrigation Company which in 1910 constructed the dikes and works in question.

The appellants ask for a reversal of the judgment on six grounds: That the action is barred under Section 4 of the Water Act; that no notice was given as necessary under Section 33 of the Act; that under the latter section the onus of proof was on the plaintiff to show negligence; that the fact the ditch was out of repair was only prime facie evidence and it was a good defence to say that no reasonable prosecution had been overtook; that arbitration is the only remedy; that the damage, if done, was before 1921 or alternatively that no written notice was received. The hearing continues with the respondents to be heard this afternoon.

In all at this city 35 cases were listed. Judgment was reserved in 22 of these, and this morning in the remainder. Five appeals were allowed, three dismissed, one quashed unheard, and three withdrawn, one remaining to be heard. The court opened on June 5.

ACCIDENT HAD SERIOUS RESULT

Woman Critically Injured Lies at Jubilee Hospital

More seriously injured than at first supposed, Mrs. V. Lorraine, 472 Duplin Road, lies unconscious at the Jubilee Hospital to-day with infrequent intermissions of consciousness. Thrown out of a vehicle in which she was riding at the corner of George Road and Colquitz Avenue at 4:10 a. m. on Wednesday last, Mrs. Lorraine landed on her head on the pavement, sustaining concussion. She was rushed to the Jubilee Hospital in a private motor car, Dr. A. C. Sinclair attending.

The report of the accident was placed in the hands of the Sanich police to-day. According to the city police Constable George Walton, of the city force, was driving the vehicle in question when two wheels left the road and it ran for some distance in the ditch. Just before the vehicle reached Colquitz Avenue it struck some boards, and Mrs. Lorraine was thrown out.

Now on holidays Constable Walton has been summoned by Chief Fry to appear before the City Police Commission in session to-night. The Times to-day Mrs. Lorraine's condition was described as very critical, but hope was held that having weathered the climax of the shock her condition would take a turn for the better.

100 BEER CLUBS NOW SOUGHT AS VANCOUVER LIMIT

Favoritism Alleged in Granting Licenses By City; Prohibitionists Stirred

Vancouver, July 12.—With 92 clubs in the city already granted licenses and operating, two more assured of licenses when they comply with the regulations as laid down by License Inspector Jones, and with about 20 applications for licenses now ready to come before the council, and another half hundred waiting to see what reception these will get, the club situation in Vancouver is arousing keen interest.

It has already reached the stage where Alderman R. P. Pettipiece has given notice that he will ask for a special meeting to discuss the matter, to give the council an opportunity of laying down a definite policy in the matter. He asked that the applications now on hand be held over until that time.

Allegations of favoritism have followed the turning down of a number of applications for licenses, and although the licenses granted do not carry the privilege of selling liquors, prohibition forces and others are up in arms at the manner in which the law in this respect is being flagrantly evaded without action being taken by the city authorities.

According to close observers of the situation it is believed that an attempt will be made to limit the number of clubs in the city to 100. As 92 licenses have already been granted this leaves only five still to receive licenses, and the competition will be keen.

Alderman Pettipiece will ask that not only the number of clubs be limited but that a club zone be laid out and strictly adhered to. He will support the 100 club plan.

When the club licensing by-law was drawn up it was tacitly agreed that all hotels and service clubs should be granted licenses where they complied with the health and building by-laws and were recommended by the police officials. Then would come language clubs for various nationalities, and after that whatever clubs could comply with the requirements and were recommended by License Inspector Jones, whose word in the matter is law.

TO INVESTIGATE GARBAGE DUMPING

Complaints that city garbage dumped at sea comes floating back into the harbor and creates insanitary conditions will be investigated by Medical Health Officer A. G. Price immediately. Dr. Price said to-day that he plans to board the tug, which tows the garbage out to sea, and to see just how the garbage is dumped.

It is not so much a question of where the garbage is dumped as how it is dumped, Dr. Price said to-day. "It might be dumped four miles out to sea and still float back into the harbor, and on the other hand it might be dumped only a mile out and never come back. It depends entirely on the tides. The flow of the tides must be observed closely if the tide is to be disposed of satisfactorily."

"There is no doubt that some garbage has been floating into the harbor lately."

CHINESE START TO REBUILD BROKEN LIVE FISH CRATES

Getting Ready to Keep Fish in Harbor Again, City Hall Learns

May Move Wharves Out to Sea; Officials Keep Close Watch

Chinese owners of fish crates destroyed by city health officials recently are starting to rebuild these contrivances in which fish have been kept alive and in filthy water for sale, it was announced by Medical Health Officer A. G. Price to-day.

Dr. Price yesterday visited the Chinese fish wharves, removal of which from the harbor has been urged officially by the City Council, and found that some of the crates, which he broke up a few days ago were being re-built. Chinese told Dr. Price that the crates were to be used to keep herring for bait, but the Health Officer refused to believe this. The crates would not hold small fish like herring for a moment, he said.

Keep Close Watch. Alarmed by the re-building of the crates, health officials under Dr. Price will keep a close watch on the fish wharves during the next few days. Dr. Price already has announced that he will destroy any more crates found to contain living fish in the dirty harbor water. Dr. Price also is keeping close watch on fishing boats which keep living fish on board in tanks. This practice, Dr. Price says, is quite illegal.

As a result of Mr. Price's recent activities, Chinese are now thinking of moving their fish wharves out to sea and establishing them on some convenient island, according to word that reached the City Hall to-day. Here the Chinese would be at liberty to keep living fish in crates. It is illegal, however, to keep them in crates alive in the harbor but, according to Dr. Price, the Chinese persistently break the law in this connection.

OLD RESIDENTS DO NOT FORGET CITY

Victorians in California Have Formed Clubs, and Try to Boost B. C.

The Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau announced this morning to The Times that residents of California who originally resided in Victoria are keenly interested in the welfare of their old home town, and do all in their power to boost it. A communication was received from the secretary, L. Hutchison, of the Victoria Re-Union Club, of Oakland, California, stating that that body's membership was already well over the hundred mark, and that at the weekly dances held in Oakland there were, as a rule, close to three hundred ex-Victorians present, all of whom would like nothing better but to return to their old town and enjoy a climate that cannot be equalled and scenery that cannot be excelled. The Publicity Bureau has been asked to send to California several hundred of the little cards introducing Victoria, that the B. C. cannot be so easily forgotten. These cards will be kept fresh in the memories of its former residents.

Together with the little cards, the Publicity Bureau is sending a few hundred industrial folders of Vancouver Island for distribution amongst the residents of California, and it is hoped that the publicity gained for Victoria through these channels will be highly profitable to the city, and to those who contemplate returning to it from the south. The Publicity Bureau has received from the British Columbia Electric Railway Company a number of interesting folders which contain information relative to the places of interest in Victoria and the district adjacent to it. A number of beautiful post cards have been procured by the bureau, which are to be kept for mailing by the general public at the offices in the Belmont Building.

OBITUARY RECORD

The death occurred on July 11, at the aged woman's home, of Mrs. Jeanette Lowe, aged 87 years, born in Scotland and formerly residing at Cobble Hill, B. C. The remains are resting at the B. C. Mrs. Dorothy Ann Work passed away Thursday afternoon at the residence, 1057 Regent Street, aged 67 years. The funeral of the late Andrew Thom took place yesterday afternoon from the B. C. Funeral Chapel, at 2 o'clock, where service was conducted by the Rev. Joseph McCoy at the chapel and grave. The hymns sung were: "Peace, Perfect Peace" and "Nearer, My God to Thee." Many friends attended, also a delegation from the Odd Fellows. The casket was covered with flowers. The following acted as pallbearers, all being members of the L.O.O.F.: Brothers H. Grant, D. A. Henry, J. May, B. Branson, S. A. Virtue and P. W. Dempster.

The many friends of Mrs. P. W. Kelly, of Woodfibre, formerly Miss Ella Parsell, of this city, will regret to learn of her death on Wednesday morning. Mrs. Kelly was taken suddenly ill at Woodfibre and was hurried to Vancouver, her death occurring

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY
Victoria Times, July 13, 1898.

A somewhat mysterious shipment of gold dust reached Seattle yesterday from Victoria. It was stated to-day. It was consigned to the firm of Dexter, Horton & Co.

The privateer story, which told of a deep laid scheme to rob the treasure-laden vessels coming from the mouth of the Yukon "will not down." American papers, while publishing the story claim that it is a fake, or a scheme gotten up by steamship companies to secure trade for Victoria and Vancouver at the expense of American ports.

ENGINEER ESCAPES ONE WRECK, KILLED IN THE OTHER.—The train Engineer James M. Burke, of Scranton, Pa., was driving last week was wrecked in a collision at Allentown, Pa., as shown in the picture at the top. Burke escaped injury by leaping. Undismayed by the accident he took out the same train two days later. It was derailed a half mile from the station at Scranton and plunged over a bank. Burke remained at his post and was killed.

THIS IS CALLED "CORNERING"—It looks as though C. P. Wood, the driver, and his companion were tempting fate in making this turn at Quarter Bridge in a race on the Isle of Man. Note how the passenger throws himself across the machine to balance it as the turn is made at high speed.

STAR CANADIAN GOLFER.—By defeating Miss Alexa Stirling, metropolitan champion, Miss Ada MacKenzie, former Dominion champion, earned the right to meet Miss Glenna Collett, of Providence, United States national woman champion, in the finals of the recent Buffalo tournament. The American girl won out.

ANNA GLUZMAN, SOVIET JUDGE.—A 28-year-old girl has coolly doled out death to 25 men within a few months. Without a tremor or a sign of pity she has fulfilled her job of sentencing men to the gallows. But her work has spared her soul and left the mark of age upon her face. Compare the picture at the left, taken when she was 19, with the picture to the right, taken recently. Notice the hardening of the lines of the face and the right hand closed over the end of the always present cigarette. Is it the mark that death leaves upon the living?

GLASS OF MUCKI.—Mucki is the smallest pekingese in the world. Four years old, he weighs only seven ounces and rests comfortably in a wine glass. He belongs to an Austrian nobleman.

SCHOOL DAYS

By DWIG

WALTER HOOVER, of Du-luth. American champion single sculler and winner last year of the Diamond Sculls, was beaten in the first heat at Henley last week by Donald H. L. Gollam, of the Leander Club. Gollam, who was not conceded a chance, beat Hoover three-quarters of a length.

AN UNIQUE HAPPENING IN GOLF, probably without parallel in any part of the world, occurred last week at the Lakeview Golf Club, when the five Thompson brothers, of Toronto, Winnipeg and Hamilton, competed in the first open championship tournament of the Ontario Amateur Golf Association. Three of them competed in the amateur championship, which preceded the open, and in both championships the Thompson brothers were the keenest contenders for the title. On the left is Frank Thompson, former Canadian amateur champion, who was beaten in the Ontario amateur title by R. M. Gray, Jr., after a sensational match. Next to him is Matt Thompson, of Winnipeg, an ex-amateur champion of that province, and one of the Prairie City's most reliable golfers. In the centre is Nicol Thompson, the only professional in the family. He is attached to the Hamilton Club at Ancaster, and is holder of the Canadian professional championship, which he won last year. Next to Nicol is Stanley Thompson, the well-known golf architect and designer, who has designed many courses in Ontario. On the right is W. J. (Bill) Thompson, one of Canada's finest amateur medal players and a golf writer of note.

ANDROS QUILTS CITY FINANCE COMMITTEE

Says He Cannot Attend Meetings; New Accounting System Approved

Alderman E. B. Andros laid his resignation from the civic Finance Committee before the City Council yesterday afternoon. His retirement was caused by his inability to attend committee meetings during the summer, and was the outcome of protests from other members against his continued absence.

In his resignation, Alderman Andros expressed appreciation of the courtesy extended to him by the Finance Committee Chairman, Alderman David Leeming, and other members.

Alderman Andros moved himself that his resignation be accepted, and this motion was carried unanimously.

Changes in city by-laws to provide relief for the overlooked Financial Committee were approved by the Council. Under the new regulations, it will be possible for the Finance Committee chairman alone to approve accounts. In addition, any two members of the committee are given power to endorse expenditures.

Under the existing law, it was explained at yesterday's Council meeting it is necessary for the whole Finance Committee to examine and approve all expenditures of money.

PEST IMPORT BAN ON NOW, HE SAYS

All sorts of Oriental pests will have a hard time getting into Canada now, according to L. S. McLaine, chief of the division of foreign pests suppression, Dominion Department of Agriculture. He has been here conferring with W. Downes, Victoria representative of the department, and Provincial Government officials about suppression of harmful insects which come from across the Pacific.

The $20,000 fumigating plant, built by the Dominion and Provincial Governments, is now in operation in Vancouver, and all field products coming into the country have to go through it, Mr. McLaine said.

MUCH-NEEDED REST.

"What is your occupation?" asked the magistrate sternly.

"I haven't any," replied the man.

"I just circulate around, so to speak."

"Then," said the magistrate, turning to the clerk, "see that this man is withdrawn from circulation for thirty days."

CITY FINANCIAL REORGANIZATION PLAN IS APPROVED

Council, in Less Than Half Hour, Completes Remodeling Programme

Comptroller to Be Business Head; Treasurer Given Wider Powers

Total re-organization of the city's financial machinery, a problem which split the Mayor and aldermen into disputing factions a short time ago, was completed in twenty-nine minutes by the City Council yesterday afternoon.

With the insertion of a single unimportant word in one clause the Council approved all sections of the new by-law, prepared by Mayor Reginald Hayward, Alderman David Leeming and Alderman W. J. Sargent and setting out in full the revised duties of the City Comptroller and City Treasurer who, together, will manage the city's finances.

As announced some time ago, the new scheme as passed by the Council yesterday, makes the Comptroller, the business head of the city and places upon him the duty of seeing that all departments are functioning efficiently. The Treasurer is given much wider powers than he exercises at present and is allowed complete control of his department and over all city money.

This re-organization scheme was opposed only by Alderman E. S. Woodward, who was understood to be against the plan on principle, as he wants to see a board of control set up to run the city. The main features of the scheme had been agreed upon by the aldermen at Mayor Hayward's celebrated "peace dinner"—when unity of purpose was shaped out of confusion prevailing at the City Hall as a result of the vacancy in the Comptrollership.

Comptroller's Duties.

The by-law passed by the Council yesterday, among other matters provides that:

"The duties of the Comptroller, in addition to those duties prescribed by law, and the resolutions and by-laws of the Council, shall be as follows:

"(a) To see that all contracts, orders, resolutions, and by-laws of the council are carried out.

"(b) To see that the books of this department are kept so as to indicate all expenditures authorized by the council.

"(c) See that all accounts are checked by his department before payment is made, and issue the necessary vouchers authorizing all payments.

"(d) Report to the council matters affecting the interests of the city.

Supervise Financial Business.

"2. (a) He shall, subject to the jurisdiction of the city council, have a general supervision over the financial business of the departments of the city, see that appropriations are not exceeded, and recommend such changes to the council as may be deemed expedient.

"(b) He shall prescribe the manner in which all account books of the several city officials shall be kept, and he may examine and check such books with the necessary vouchers at any time; and see that all accounts are kept in strict conformity with the authorizations of the council.

"(c) See that no unauthorized expenditures are made.

"(d) Guide the work of the departments according to up-to-date methods.

The Comptroller is further to submit monthly statements of receipts and expenditures, and to prepare the annual statement. The estimates are to be ready by January 15 each year. The official is further to advise the finance committee on all matters regarding sale of city securities and investments of sinking funds.

Treasurer's Duties.

The duties of the treasurer-collector, in addition to those prescribed by law and the resolutions and by-laws of the council are set out as follows:

"1. The treasurer-collector shall have control over all persons employed in his office and shall be responsible to the council for the efficiency therein.

"2. (a) He shall collect all rates, taxes and other revenues of the corporation.

"(b) He shall deposit or cause to be deposited daily with the bankers of the corporation, all money received, and be responsible for the proper allocation of all moneys so received.

"(c) He shall be the custodian of all funds of the city.

All questions affecting trade licenses are placed in his department.

PROTESTS AGAINST ANY INTERFERENCE WITH SHIPS HERE

Alderman A. E. Todd warned the City Council yesterday against enforcing any regulations in connection with the new Johnson Street bridge that would interfere at all with shipping.

Alderman Todd's warning was provoked by the proposal that all ships over 2,000 tons net register be forced to use tugboats when passing under the bridge. This plan was advanced to protect the bridge from possible damage from heavy ships, difficult to manage in bad weather. One ship, it was recalled, crashed into the bridge foundations some time ago.

"We should do nothing that will hinder in any way the trade we hope will come to this port," Alderman Todd declared.

Alderman E. S. Woodward suggested that the city might insure the bridge from damage by shipping, and asked officials to look into this possibility.

The Council postponed for a week consideration of bridge regulations.
